Marion Knows How To Party

By Marilou Newell

There was food, games, music, perfect weather, and a constant ebb and flow of partygoers on Saturday, August 27, as Marion celebrated what Chris Berg, Town Party Committee chairman, called "Our wonderful town!"

The contributions of the fire and police departments, various other town departments, and the efforts of all the volunteers were recognized by Berg as he introduced Michelle Richardson, who sang the Star Spangled Banner during the opening ceremonies. The police color guard, comprised of Officers Kris Smith and Anthony DiCarlo, stood at attention as those in Freemin Bauer, 17, of Mattapoissett Boy Scout Troop 53, along with his fellow scouts and adult assistants, held a Dog Walk-a-thon on August 27 in Mattapoissett Village. Bauer's event, part of his Eagle project, is to raise awareness for being a responsible dog owner and to help support the Fairhaven Animal Shelter. Proceeds from the event will be used to purchase supplies for repairs the scouts will make to the facility. Additional funds raised from the event will be donated to the shelter. On the Cover: The town collected almost 2,000 wood pallets and stacked them sky high in the ball field beside the Town House in anticipation of the annual Marion Town Party on Saturday, August 27. The theme of this year's party, "Out of This World," was appropriately represented in the playful banner hung on the stack of firewood and eventually burned along with it in an enormous bonfire. attendance took a moment to appreciate our country.

Then it was back to the party.

"All the games are free," said Selectman and committee member Steve Gonsalves. He said that about seven years ago, after the town party had experienced stops and starts, the event was once again something to look forward to each August.

The first town party was held in the 1800s, Berg explained. "Back in those days," he said, "it was called Marigold Days."

"It's a great time for families to come together, be together," Gonsalves said. "It's keeping a tradition alive."

"This year, the town party is dedicated to the VFW," Gonsalves explained. He said it was bittersweet that the Benjamin D. Cushing V.F.W. Post 2425 has had to close due to dwindling membership and building costs. The post has asked the town to accept the building as a gift. Decision on that is currently pending, Gonsalves said.

Party committee member Donna Hemphill said the committee had striven to keep the party affordable so that families could come out and participate.

Hemphill said it was important to recognize two platinum level sponsors of this year's party: Tabor Academy and the Kittansett Club.

Of the food, Gonsalves laughed, "It's all fresh and it's cheap."

Long tables decorated with strands of twinkly lights allowed community members to mix and mingle while enjoying a bite to eat.

Little ones frolicked at various activities from making crafts, to making huge bubbles, playing basketball, hitting a baseball in a large inflated venue, and climbing a rock wall.

As the DJ pumped out the musical jams, performers entertained the crowd with synchronized

At 8:30 pm, the bonfire was set ablaze and quickly shot up 75 feet into the night sky to the awe of all in attendance. As the flames subsided and people started to drift away, many were commenting on what a great day it had been – truly a tradition worth saving.

The Great War

By Marilou Newell

On August 23, local historian Seth Mendell gave the second of five lectures in his series on the "Great War" – World War I. The lectures are a joint venture between the Mattapoisett Public Library and the Mattapoisett Historical Society Museum.

As he adjusted the microphone in the library's meeting room, Mendell said with a sly smile, "I'm used to speaking to teenagers whose hearing is good." The nearly full-to-capacity room responded with groans and chuckles. "As I have aged, so has my audience," he responded. Mendell is a retired educator who taught for many years at Avon Old Farms School in Connecticut.

In his first lecture, Mendell laid the groundwork for the war that quickly found all of Europe rallying allegiances and arming soldiers from England to Russia. The assassination of Archduke Ferdinand and his wife Sophie on June 28, 1914 in Sarajevo is the well-known tipping point. What Mendell adds to the names, dates, and places is a deeper insight into the why of it all.

After the duke's murder, countries throughout Europe grouped into two alliances – the Central Powers comprised of Germany, Austria-Hungry, and Turkey against the Allies comprised of France, Russia, Italy, Belgium, Serbia, Montenegro, and Japan. It wasn't until 1917 that the United States entered.

The back-story goes like this: Serbia wanted to gain control of Austria-Hungry. The head of military intelligence for Serbia, Colonel Dragutin Dimitrijevic, deployed Gavrilo Princip to do the deadly deed of assassinating Ferdinand and his wife as they toured the region. Although warned of the impending assault by an insider, Ferdinand either did not believe it would happen or completely misunderstood the magnitude of the missive he received. Either way, he and she were cruelly dispatched.

This act, Mendell pointed out, was what caused a "tumble" into war.

Then Austria attacked Russia in a plan to free 'slavs.' Germany, who was tied to Austria, then came into the conflict against Russia. Because France had a treaty with Russia, they were drawn in and then came England. "It was a house of cards," Mendell said, "It was a war that no one had expected."

On the Eastern Front, Germany planned to attack France in a "sweeping" military maneuver that, unfortunately for them, failed. "The officers couldn't communicate with one another..." across a vast 400-mile long front, Mendell explained.

Germany made other critical errors. They believed Belgium would stay neutral. They did not. They believed they could keep England out of France. They could not. And thinking the Western Front needed more troops than the Eastern Front, Germany repositioned nearly a half million soldiers to Russia.

Mendell also explained that during this time, military equipment evolved as a direct result of a new type of warfare: trench warfare.

The machine gun used by both sides was able to fire repeatedly at the top of the trench affording maximum protection to the soldiers operating it from the depths. And then there were the dirty weapons.

Germany used poison gas that floated across the militarized zone of the Eastern Front seeping into the trenches. Although the allied forces had gas masks, "They didn't know when they were supposed to put them on," Mendell said. It was the fleeing rodents that flooded into the waste-filled troughs that sounded the alarm that gas was on the way. There, in those reeking trenches, man and animal alike sought to survive. Adding to the 'evil' weaponry of the Germans was the flame-thrower.

Mendell added an aside to his commentary that gave WWI local context. He said that the Acushnet Rubber Company business "really got going" because it was making gas masks.

As the war dragged on, Germany's use of submarines would, in part, draw the United States into the theater of war.

The sinking of the Lusitania, Mendell stated, was not the prime reason the U.S. entered the war, but it did contribute to President Wilson finally breaking all ties with Germany and joining the allies in 1917.

Regarding the Lusitania, Mendell had one more anecdotal story to share. Avon Old Farms had been designed by one of the survivors – Theodate Pope Riddle, the first female architect in Connecticut to receive a license in this primarily all-male profession.

Mendell read from Riddle's letter to her mother describing the horrors she witnessed as she floated among the ship's debris along with the living and the dead. As Mendell read her words, the audience was transfixed.

Although everyone knows how this chapter in history ends, Mendell's re-telling and ability to weave the seemingly disparate details into a cohesive story is more than educational, it's entertaining.

Subsequent lectures will be held in the Mattapoisett Library's meeting room at 7:00 pm on September 6, United States Entry and the finale on September 13, Ploughboys and Doughboys. The third lecture on The Middle Phases was held on August 30.

Mendell will also give a lecture – sponsored by the Mattapoisett Historical Museum – on September 4 in Shipyard Park on the history of Naushon Island.

A Swan's Best Friend

By Marilou Newell

Phyllis Washburn, Marion resident and author, told the heartwarming, tender story of how she and her husband Ralph met a swan and began a journey they could not have anticipated. Their relationship with Sam the Swan has been captured forever in her book Good Morning Sam.

Washburn spoke on August 29 after the Marion Council on Aging luncheon as part of an ongoing series of after-lunch lectures sponsored by the COA at the Marion Music Hall.

The Washburns started out simply enjoying nature and observing the animals, quietly, gently along the salt marshes, coves and inlets on the shore of Sippican Harbor. Over time, Ralph and Phyllis Washburn would become the best friend a swan could ever have.

She said that in 1985, "Ralph was doing some work in the harbor and was told about the swan." The swan had already been given the name Sam by the time Ralph met him and fed him crackers. Ralph said to his wife excitedly, "You've got to see this swan!"

The Washburns hadn't planned to visit daily, but they were enchanted by the giant bird's splendor and willingness to allow their advances. They began to bring him bread, slowly earning the mute swan's trust. "We fed him bread occasionally, then twice a day, then got him to go up on the beach," she said in a voice as soft as a whisper. Washburn said that she even baked cornbread for Sam. "It was Ralph's favorite breakfast, too," she added with humor.

During that first winter of what would become a 14-year adventure, "We coaxed him out of the water and fed him," Washburn said. As time went by, the Washburns would find themselves feeding Sam twice a day everyday. "He'd always come back at mealtime," she chuckled, and then added, "The fourteen years we spent with Sam were pure joy, on our part, and on his part, too, I think."

Sam, they would learn, had a damaged wing and could not fly; therefore, since he was stuck in Sippican Harbor, Sam made his living from nature's bounty and now through the generosity of two devoted humans.

"One winter he disappeared," Washburn told the audience. "We called the police and asked them to keep an eye out because it was hunting season." As fate would have it, the police were notified of a swan in the Weweantic River that appeared injured.

The intrepid couple sought him out calling to him. Lo and behold, the swan responded. For two weeks, the Washburns returned daily to the river feeding Sam and monitoring his condition. They were anxious to find a way to get him back into Sippican Harbor, as they knew the Weweantic often froze over in the winter. They were worried Sam would be frozen, too.

One day, when they went to the river to feed Sam, he was gone. "He had managed to get back to Marion," Washburn sighed with relief as if it had happened yesterday.

Washburn describes their experience of befriending Sam as a "blessing," one that they experienced because of their willingness to "meet nature where it is..."

Ralph, a photographer, took pictures of Sam and other swans that came in and out of his long life. Phyllis simply started out writing expanded captions for those pictures. She also kept a journal documenting their experiences with Sam. After a while, and with some encouragement, Phyllis began studying and writing at a Cape Cod writers group in Hyannis. After four years, she was prepared to write the story of Sam.

During her discussion, Washburn took her audience through the trials of protecting Sam during Hurricane Bob, providing shelter for him in their backyard when old age threatened to drown him, and welcoming the occasional female partner when Sam was fortunate enough to catch one's eye for a season.

"[Sam's] life ended in our backyard," Washburn said wistfully. As difficult as that must have been, the Washburns always felt "it was a fantastic adventure." With Sam gone, the female who had also come to live on their property as his partner was now alone. This female they had named Little One. After Sam's passing, Little One "called and called for him." To ease the lady's sorrow, the Washburns got her a black duck for company.

"The duck bossed her around," Washburn remembered with a smile. Little One stayed with the Washburns for nine years.

Washburn said that she and Ralph "still look for swans in the harbor every spring." She lamented, however, that due to the harbor being congested with boats, swans are now less likely to nest along the shores.

As her discussion drew to a close, Washburn shared that after Sam died, "I heard a swan and looked up but no swan was there. I think that was Sam telling us he was in God's kingdom now and flying again."

You can visit Washburn's website at www.ourswans.com and watch their YouTube video titled "Mute Swans and Humans," and order a copy of the book.

The Sippican Hotel: A History of Marion

A full house and then some joined Sippican Historical Society Vice President David Pierce on Thursday night, August 25, as he presented a lecture on the old Sippican Hotel and Casino.

Pierce's popularity as a lecturer almost overwhelmed the room, as attendees continued to trickle into the Music Hall; more and more chairs had to be procured and lecture handouts quickly ran out.

"I usually teach high-schoolers," Pierce said, looking happily over the crowded room. "They haven't been anywhere yet, they're not as interested."

Pierce had plans to talk about more than the Sippican Hotel. He began by explaining the timeline of Marion itself; the story of the Sippican Hotel became a reflection of the town's story.

The house that would eventually become the Sippican Hotel was originally built in 1794 as a two-story farm house owned by Timothy Hiller. In 1864, the farmhouse was converted into the Bay View House, and the third floor was added. In 1882, an additional wing was built, and then another four-story addition came to fruition in 1907.

"I've been there, I've seen the lot," Pierce said, looking out at the audience. Behind him was an elegant photo of a rambling building, a smaller, charming version of Disney's Victorian-inspired Grand Floridian. "I don't know how they did it. But I tell you, I expect to see 150 people walking down South Street tonight after this lecture, trying to figure out how they fit it all in there."

Certainly nobody could imagine a grand four-story hotel on the corner of South Street and Water Street today. It was a relic of its time – a time Pierce termed "the Golden Age" of Marion.

"We have some famous people in Marion here today," he explained. "But Marion in the early twentieth century was an incredibly diverse mixing place for extremely well-known people. Presidents came here," he stated, "and movie stars. Literary luminaries." They found themselves unwinding on the delicate wicker furniture and shaded verandas of the hotel.

Often families from New York and Boston would come to the Inn and stay for the entire summer.

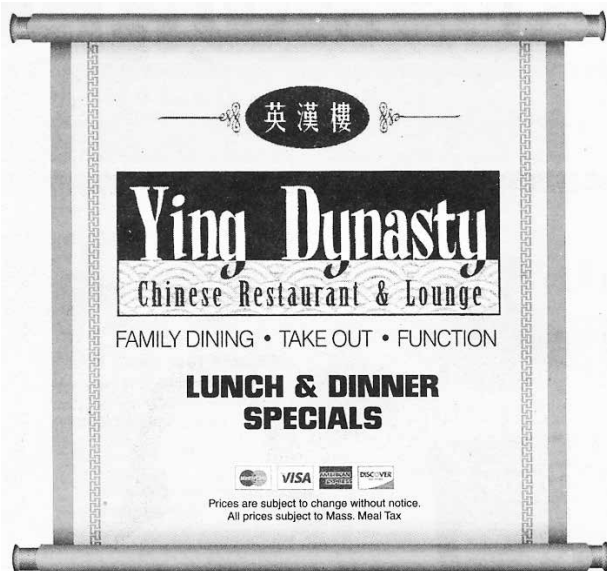

"The husbands would stay at work during the week and come into Marion on the weekends, but the wives and children would stay all summer," Pierce explained. "Their luggage would be carried from train station by horse and carriage. Some of the families would even bring their pianos," he added with a chuckle, explaining the system set in place to hoist pianos through the windows of the hotel.

What was a family to do for fun on those long, hot summer days on the beach? The answer was to visit the Sippican Casino. Of course, the Sippican Casino was – in the days of illegal gambling – actually a place for music, entertainment, and relaxation. The casino in question harbored a red roof and rambling verandas on three sides. It faced the ocean and offered tennis courts, music, and dancing in the second-floor ballroom. Even today, it sounds like a lavish (and rich) way to spend an idyllic summer.

The hotel was also served by electric trolleys chugging along the backwater streets in much the same way they traverse San Francisco today. The trolleys ran from 5:30 am to midnight at half-hour intervals.

"You could walk out of the hotel, step on the trolley to Wareham, then get off and take the train to Boston," Pierce said, "but it would take you all day."

Unfortunately, the hotel met its end in 1929, not long after the 1907 addition. It was sold to a syndicate from Boston who planned to renovate it as a tavern and build a dance hall on the site of the casino. Then, the hotel fell victim to a wider, shared fate: the Great Depression.

The decision was made to tear the entire structure down and sell the land for development. Thus the hotel, like the Golden Age of Marion, was finished.

Today, houses sit on the lots of the old hotel; the Marconi towers have fallen, and houses have risen in the seaside meadows. The electric trolley has long disappeared into the blur of the past, and railroad tracks are entombed under pavement. But, as Pierce aimed to impress on the audience, "The message today is change. Nothing ever stays the same."

What Stinks in Mattapoisett?

By Jean Perry

If you have spent any time this past week anywhere near Mattapoisett Harbor, you may have taken a deep breath in, expecting the fresh salty sea air to fill your nose, but instead found yourself in an olfactory funk.

"Peeeeuuuu! What is that smell?" We have all said it.

The smell lingered for days, especially down near Shipyard Park and even all the way to the Route

6 vicinity, smelling like an overflowing septic system. The Wanderer received enough inquiries from readers wondering what stank so horribly that we went to the one person in town who could tell us what is stinking up the air so badly – Jill Simmons, Mattapoissett harbormaster.

"There is a pretty good algae bloom going on and when it gets near the town docks, the stuff collects and begins to rot," Simmons said. "It is methane gas you are smelling from decomposition of the seaweed and algae."

Simmons said that during her first year on the job, a similar situation transpired and she was concerned that the sewer line had been compromised and was leaking into the harbor. She asked the Board of Health for some dye to flush down the system and found that it was not the sewer line creating the stench.

"Finding out that wasn't the problem was good, but we had to look for what the real issue was," said Simmons. "Didn't take long ... to nail it down."

Simmons said that on August 23, the U.S. Coast Guard notified her that there was a reported oil spill off Mattapoissett. Simmons said it turned out that the call was made by a civilian aircraft.

"It was a [half-mile] wide and ten miles long," said Simmons, and the same shade as the Bouchard oil spill of 2003. "It was eventually discounted and apparently more algae."

The algae and seaweed continue to decompose in the heat, and the smell will eventually subside.

"Crazy things go on all the time," said Simmons. She hopes this information helps to explain what the nasty smell is, "but unfortunately, it won't make the smell go away," she said.

Board Still Waiting for Zero Waste Timeline

Rochester Planning Board

By Jean Perry

Mike Camara, CEO of ABC Disposal, the owning company of the Zero Waste facility off Cranberry Highway in Rochester, told the Rochester Planning Board on August 24 that after filing for Chapter 11 protection and a subsequent fire, he is unable to give the board what it wanted that night – a timeline for construction.

Chairman Arnold Johnson said a lack of communication from Zero Waste management over the past year concerns him, especially since it appears that progress with the work site is at a standstill, despite fire clean-up and a plan approved back in 2013 for an 90,000 square-foot state-of-the-art waste recycling facility.

"What the board needs is ... a construction timetable. You can't just say it's all going to be done in a year. That doesn't help us," said Johnson. "And we need better communication. Stuff's not getting done over there, but you're operating business as usual over there.... We need a game plan. When can you give us a game plan?"

Camara was unable to give Johnson what he asked for and explained to the board why.

"We've been led down the wrong path by some banks," said Camara. "They said they had our backs, and they didn't."

Camara recounted how the company filed on May 11, 2016 for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection and he does not anticipate coming out of Chapter 11 for another two to three months. Once that is complete, the company can modify the bond, acquire funding, and finish the construction plan.

"I wish I had a crystal ball," said Camara. "All I can say is that we're working really hard every day, and we know that it's coming soon." He added that he anticipates resuming construction by the end of this year. He called the situation "a living hell."

The good news is that all the debris from the May 13 fire has been removed from the site, which pleased the board. The Planning Board, however, maintained concern over stormwater drainage systems still incomplete, especially with the presence of sensitive wetlands near the construction site.

Camara said three of the proposed stormwater systems have been built already, and he knows he is going to finish the project, which will ultimately generate more tax dollars for the town, he said. But for now, with the financial mess with the bank and the ongoing process in Bankruptcy Court, further investing of money to make improvements at the site is at a halt.

Rochester's Town Counsel Blair Bailey said he found it hard to believe that the Bankruptcy Court would restrict the company from spending money on improvements to a financed site. And the liability of having some aspects of the project, including those unfinished stormwater drainage systems, keeps the town "on the hook."

"I have an issue with money being generated out there (at Zero Waste) without money being spent to at least fix it up," said Bailey. "It's half done and it's operating ... but it's not, from a safety standpoint. I don't want to be on the hook for that."

Camara replied, "I hope nobody ever has to go through what we're going through." He said the state recognizes how important this facility will be for the region and the Town of Rochester, and his family's wellbeing also depends on its success.

"But we still have to maintain the line of communication," said Johnson. "So we're going to be looking for that. We just can't let it go unchecked."

In other matters, the board granted an Approval Not Required request for Diana Murphy for Walnut Plain Road, Map 23, Lot 16.

The board continued until September 13 the public hearing for the Site Plan review for It's All About the Animals of 103 Marion Road to build an addition to the cat shelter. The board anticipates rendering a positive decision at that time.

The public hearing for Gary Mills for a modification of an Approved Definitive Subdivision Plan for lots located at Hartley Road was continued until September 13. Mills seeks to modify the plan to combine Lots 1 and 2 into a single lot, which would reduce the total number of buildable lots from three to two. He also seeks to change the roadway from an 18-inch to a 16-inch gravel road.

The next meeting of the Rochester Planning Board is scheduled for September 13 at 7:00 pm.

breakfast at 460 Front Street, agreed on August 25 to allow the Marion Zoning Board of Appeals to re-open its public hearing for a Special Permit to add a third bedroom to its inn, and then promptly asked for a continuance.

Innkeeper Kate Hill told the board she was seeking legal counsel, and the board rescheduled the re-opened public hearing for September 22.

During the August 11 ZBA meeting, the board questioned Hill's honesty about how many rooms she was currently renting, concerned that she may already be renting four instead of the two permitted. The board members visited the inn's website and also a general bed & breakfast website and concluded that it appeared as though Hill was renting more bedrooms than was allowed. This discussion took place after Hill had left the Town House, leaving Hill unable to further address the board's concerns.

In an email to the board handed to the chairman that evening, Town Counsel Jon Whitten advised the board that it could re-open the public hearing should it desire to seek further information from Hill. Hill said she had some pertinent information to present to the board and wished to re-visit the discussion.

"If we re-open it, then we start from scratch again," ZBA member Joanne Mahoney told Hill.

No further discussion took place that evening and this time, Hill remained at the meeting until it adjourned and the board members left the Town House.

In other matters, the board approved a Special Permit request from petitioners Nancy and James Kiehl of 15 West Avenue to allow an expansion of an existing garage/shed into a three-car garage with game room above.

The next meeting of the Marion Zoning Board of Appeals is scheduled for September 8 at 7:30 pm in the Marion Town House meeting room.

boards as “nerve wrecking,” Jim Vogel accompanied by his wife, Holly, and attorney George Boerger, were once again before the Rochester Zoning Board of Appeals on August 25.

Since the June ZBA hearing on whether or not the building inspector was correct in citing the educational service provider as not permitted as an agricultural activity under the zoning bylaws, the Vogels have continued to meet regularly with the ZBA in a series of hearings as they seek a special permit for the operation.

On this night, Boerger came armed with answers to questions that were specifically asked by the board members at the previous hearing. These questions centered on parking, lighting, location of manure piles, screening, and the licenses held by Vogel as a certified provider of services to persons with cognitive issues.

Boerger provided an engineered drawing of the property and used it as a visual aid as he laid out the parking plan, screening, manure location, and other relevant features. He also reviewed decisions recently rendered by the Conservation Commission. The July 20 ConCom hearing found Vogel in compliance with manure management plans and wetland recovery processes.

Boerger explained that Vogel was a licensed social worker in the state of Massachusetts and that all his clinicians held appropriate certifications and licenses. He said that since 2002, Wellspring Farm has been a certified service provider with billable hours to Mass Health. Vogel also holds certification from Massachusetts Health and Human Services, Boerger said.

Also submitted for the board’s reference were letters from abutters living at 44 Hiller Road and 22 Hiller Road, with comments that traffic was not an issue at Vogels’ location and that the operation was not disruptive.

“These support the position that there is no negative impact,” Boerger told the board members.

Chairman Richard Cutler said he needed to read into the record a letter from the attorney representing other abutters who have taken Vogel to task on a number of issues. In the letter those abutters suggested the following: parking be limited to Walnut Plain Road; restricting the number of clients serviced and that services be exclusively for children; 8-foot high screening; restricting operating hours to 9:00 am to 5:00 pm Monday through Friday and never on holidays; and if a special permit is granted, that it is granted only to the current owners of the property.

On the matter of parking, Cutler said there was some room for improvement to the plan submitted.

Board member Kirby Gilmore said, "It would be nice if we could get a tour of the property." Cutler concurred saying, "I know everyone is anxious for this to be over but ... I want to make a thoughtful decision."

Vogel noted that HIPAA regulations probably wouldn't allow a site visit during hours of operation but otherwise, "I asked you to come before," he said. Vogel wasn't in favor of a further delay, saying he was losing business and that negative comments had been sent to potential clients by sources not named.

Boerger said, "Business clients are receiving letters that they are operating illegally and are being threatened." Gilmore assured the applicant that in the eyes of the ZBA, they are operating legally.

It was decided that a site visit would take place at 8:00 am on August 26 with Cutler assuring those in attendance that decisions and discussion would not take place outside the public meeting forum.

After indicating that public comments would not be entertained until the next meeting, Cutler acquiesced as Cathy Mendoza, 32 Hiller Road, a direct abutter who has been in a prolonged struggle with Vogel over issues of property uses, rights, and encroachment, spoke.

"What I see out of my kitchen window is the manure pile," Mendoza said. "The only way you can understand what's going on here is if you lived there," she told the board members. She said trees on her property had been cut down and sheds placed on her property while rhetorically adding, "...Is that being respectful of neighbors?" She also questioned the credibility of the operation from a regulatory perspective.

In rebuttal to Mendoza's statements, Vogel said, "The truth is being distorted. We've been operating successfully for sixteen years." He said he wouldn't be in business if he weren't licensed to do so.

During the School Committee's August 29 meeting, Magee addressed comments Hartley made criticizing the process the chief followed in speaking to selectmen about the hiring of a resource officer before first bringing it to the School Committee.

Magee addressed the School Committee on Monday night, saying, "It was several months ago and it was stewing quite a bit. It upset me quite a bit," he said.

"I was extremely disappointed ... to get a phone call about the headline ... with my dissatisfaction of the school committee," said Magee.

Confronting what Hartley back in June referred to as a "process problem," Magee said that during at least one of his monthly meetings with RMS Principal Derek Medeiros, he had in fact discussed the concept of sharing a school resource officer between Old Colony Regional Vocational Technical High School and RMS, and Medeiros confirmed Magee's statement, adding that the topic was also briefly discussed at a prior School Committee meeting, as well as a past budget sub-committee meeting.

Magee said, as for the process, he went down the proper chain of command for his position, first speaking with the schools about the concept and then bringing it to the Board of Selectmen and the Finance Committee, which was also present for the chief's discussion with selectmen. He said, just like a teacher would first go to the principal, then to the superintendent, and then to the School Committee, he went through his position's appropriate process.

"I did what I thought was appropriate," said Magee, adding that he was disappointed with the backlash.

He argued that, after the hours he spent developing the concept, gathering interest between the two schools, and starting financial talks about how to fund it, going to the selectmen first to see if they would even support the concept was vital, since in the end the issue could have become moot.

"It would have been foolish," Magee said. "I don't have that kind of time."

Hartley started out by expressing her respect for the chief and followed it up with the shared sentiment that the matter had also weighed heavily on her mind over the summer.

"There's no question that you have great dedication to the town and to the schools," said Hartley, praising Magee some more.

Hartley said that after reading about the Board of Selectmen meeting back in May when Magee first spoke of the resource officer position with the board, she thought it sounded to her like the decision had been made and it was a done deal, which is why she expressed regret during the June 9 meeting over Magee's conversation with selectmen.

"I think we got caught in the times of the press taking hold of things ... and is doing things in a way that doesn't give us a chance..." said Hartley. She commented that perhaps "some of what was stated in the article perhaps wasn't even said."

After the meeting, when asked to clarify that statement and specify which quotes, if any, were misquoted, Hartley said, "I am going to defer to the chairperson."

When asked if there was anything that was misstated in the article titled "Hartley Laments Lack of Communication With Chief" in the June 16 edition of The Wanderer, Hartley again declined to comment, deferring to Chairman Tina Rood.

"I think we've cleared everything up with the chief and will now be moving forward from here," said Rood.

The Wanderer reviewed the ORCTV recording of the June 9 meeting and confirmed that Hartley's statements featured in the article were accurate, including, "It was actually kind of alarming to think that the chief of police would go to the [selectmen] before he would ... to the school committee [to discuss and initiative like this]."

In the aftermath of the miscommunication, Magee said there would be no movement forward with the resource officer at this point due to an unforeseen military deployment of one of the officers, which would leave the town short one officer.

In other matters, the committee decided to do away with its tradition of holding meetings on the first Thursday of each month and will instead meet approximately every six weeks or so, including meeting at 4:30 pm on dates when Joint School Committee meetings are held. The committee voted on the following dates, times and locations:

October 6 at 6:30 pm at the Rochester Town Hall; November 17 at 4:30 pm at the ORRJHS media room; January 5 at 6:30 pm at Town Hall; February 2 at 6:30 pm at Town Hall; March 23 at 4:30 pm at the ORRJHS media room; April 27 at 6:30 pm at Town Hall; and June 6 at 6:30 pm at Rochester Memorial School.

News Submission Policy

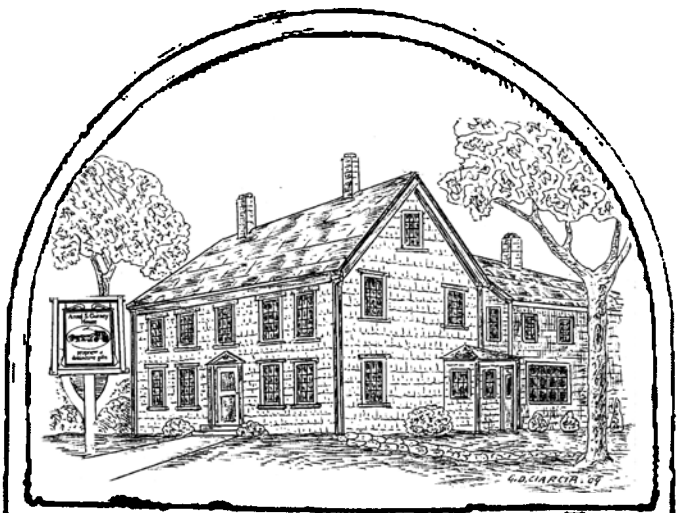

The Wanderer gladly accepts any and all news and press release items from local nonprofit organizations for publication on a weekly basis. The deadline for submission of news items is Monday at 12:00 noon for publication in that week's edition. Due to the increasing number of submissions, however, publication of press material is never guaranteed. The Wanderer will make every effort to publish timely news items and announcements as the subject warrants and as often as

We are not able to retype, correct, or hunt down information to repair incomplete press releases, and we are not able to retype or reformat posters or bulleted lists that are not in readable paragraph form. We cannot accept any handwritten material or news items via telephone, no matter how brief.

Photographs of area events and newsmakers are also accepted and encouraged. The Wanderer accepts well-lit and clearly-defined photographs for publication provided that they include a brief summary of the event or subject. We cannot return photographs. Like news items, the deadline for photos is Monday at 12:00 pm, and the publication of photographs is also subject to spacing constraints and therefore cannot be guaranteed.

All submitted copy is subject to alterations and/or condensation as space allows at the editor's discretion. All submissions become the property of The Wanderer and are assumed to be submitted for the purpose of publication. Submissions cannot be returned; therefore, please make sure to retain copies submitting anything for consideration.

Ideas for features, breaking news tips, and other suggestions for the news department are welcome. Please call the News Editor with news tips and ideas at 508-758-9055. If it is after hours, please leave a message or email news@wanderer.com.

The Wanderer Seeks Student Journalists

Are you a student at Old Rochester Regional or Old Colony who enjoys writing, finding a good scoop, and telling everybody about it? How about getting paid for doing something you enjoy anyway? There's that, and the thrill of seeing your name in print, which never really gets old, in our opinion.

Writing as a student correspondent for The Wanderer is a great way to gain writing experience under the guidance of an experienced editor, is an attractive skill for prospective colleges, and can be a reference source for your future should you consider a career in journalism or writing.

We are looking for enthusiastic students who have creative pens, noses for news, and who can commit to meeting a deadline each week to join The Wanderer team for the 2016/2017 school year. Each Monday, you will submit one story about the happenings, hot topics, and school events with at least one photo to the news editor. In exchange, you will receive $40 and constructive criticism from the news editor on how to tighten your journalism skills and learn proper formatting for newspaper writing.

We need one correspondent from ORR and one from Old Colony, and a writer for ORR sports updates. Please email a message of interest or any questions about the positions to News Editor Jean Perry at jean@wanderer.com.

Letters to the Editor

The views expressed in the "Letters to the Editor" column are not necessarily those of The Wanderer, its staff or advertisers. The Wanderer will gladly accept any and all correspondence relating to timely and pertinent issues in the great Marion, Mattapoisett and Rochester area, provided they include the author's name, address and phone number for verification. We cannot publish anonymous, unsigned or unconfirmed submissions. The Wanderer reserves the right to edit, condense and otherwise alter submissions for purposes of clarity and/or spacing considerations. The Wanderer may choose to not run letters that thank businesses, and The Wanderer has the right to edit letters to omit business names. The Wanderer also reserves

To the Editor:

I must preface this letter by saying I am not writing as a representative of any church or organized group. I am writing as a grandmother who is saddened by a recognition that over the years, sports and other activities are carving into our Sunday morning church services.

I am willing to wager there are very few women my age who are bigger fans of organized sports than I. This includes sports for people of all ages. I am also very positively impressed with the programs MATTREC is providing for the children of our town. Participating is not my problem.

What I do find fault with is the scheduling of Flag Football on Sunday morning.

For many years, church services have been held at 10:00 am on Sunday morning. These services include worship as well as church school.

Could you please consider changing the time of your Sunday morning Flag Football so our kids won't have to make a choice? If you could schedule your games a half hour earlier, our kids could make it back to Mattapoisett at 10:00 o'clock. We won't mind at all if they are a bit dirty. We will look at it as good clean dirt.

Thank you,

Claire Keene, Mattapoisett

Academic Achievements

- Katharine Griffiths Middleton of Mattapoisett received a Bachelor of Arts in Biology.

St. Philip's Episcopal

Clergy from nearby and around the country visit the "Church at the Town Beach" in Mattapoisett from July 3 to September 4. Services using the 1928 Book of Common Prayer are at 8:00 am and 10:00 am.

On Sunday, September 4, The Rev. Jeffrey Paul Cave, Honorary Assistant, Church of Our Savior, Atlanta, Georgia will be officiating. This year marks Rev. Cave's 50th anniversary as a priest. He is the author of "Church at the Town Beach" about St. Philip's Episcopal Church.

St. Philip's will hold their Annual Hymn Sing on September 4 at 5:00 pm. The Rev. Jeffrey Cave of Atlanta, Ga. will conduct the informal hymn sing, offering interesting anecdotal background on many favorite requested hymns. St. Philip's invites everyone to enjoy this musical treat.

Light refreshments will be served in the church courtyard afterwards. All are welcome.

Animal Advice

Jay Gould, DVM

My parrot only like the sunflower seeds in her seed mix. How can I get her to eat the other seeds.

I equate an all seed diet to an all white bread diet. Ok, in the short run, but severely deficient over time. Seeds lack vitamin A and a number of essential oils.

What should I feed my parrot?

Feed pelleted bird food. It looks like dry dog or cat food but much smaller, and its formulated for birds. To this add fresh fruits and vegetables. Offer the seeds for 10 minutes in the morning and 10 minutes in the evening and leave the pellets, fruits and veggies available for the rest of the day.

Tabor Academy Opens its 141st Year

Tabor Academy will open its 141st year on September 1 for pre-season athletics and training of student leaders. The school expects about 300 students to return to campus early.

Classes will begin on September 7 with 18 new faculty and 150 new students hailing from around the globe. Increasing student diversity, Tabor has enrolled one of the strongest classes in history. A record fundraising year, securing $2.3 million through the generosity of parents and alumni through the Fund for Tabor, has helped to fund improvements to the program and facility to enhance students' learning/living experience.

This year, new classes in mechanical and electrical engineering, digital music, and more have been added to the curriculum. Additionally, the school will be sending over 100 students to the Caribbean to live aboard the schooner Tabor Boy over nine week-long cruises this winter, continuing the school's 15+ year research collaboration with the National Park Service that monitors

We invite the entire community to join us in a variety of free activities intended to rediscover our shared heritage.

Sept 11 - Homecoming Annual Celebration by the Sea:

All are invited to 10 a.m. worship at Ned's Point. Special Homecoming message from Rev. Don Remick, Associate Conference Minister of the United Church of Christ. Music by the Bob Williamson Brass Ensemble. Free cookout and children's activities. Sunday school & volunteer sign-up.

Sept 11 - The Historic Role of Churches Today and in the Future presentation. All community members invited. Presented by Rev. Don Remick. 5 - 6 pm in the church hall. Please register.

Sept 22 - Opiate Abuse & Prevention Presentation: All community members invited to learn about opiate addiction and how we can fight this growing problem. Presented by "Physicians & Nurses to Prevent Opiate Abuse." 7 - 8 pm in the church hall. Please register. Intended for adult audience.

the conditions that affect the coral populations around the U.S. Virgin Islands. Finally, Smart Board technology has been upgraded and installed in several math classrooms, along with new more flexible furniture in the history and English classrooms to allow for different team groupings and small group discussions.

In the student life area, three important areas have been enhanced to improve students' health and wellness, increasing their capacity for success school-wide. First, the school's health center will now be open 24/7 in order to care for students whenever they may require skilled care. Additionally, changing from a part-time to a full-time counselor allows for more student wellness programming. Finally, adjustment to the Senior Class Dean role has been made to allow for student leadership coaching, which will improve the leadership and management skills of student leaders so that they can be most effective in their relational work with other students on campus. These improvements directly impact students' experience day to day.

Community wide, identity development will be a major theme for Tabor this year. "The school's inclusion efforts, as well as a contentious political environment in our country, demand that students understand how their backgrounds affect their identity, and seek to understand the backgrounds and opinions of others," explained Kerry Saltonstall, Director of Communications. The school will have student and faculty leaders host frequent discussions throughout the year. "Lunch and Learns," along with evening "Cultural Conversations," will engage students in civil discourse around a host of issues about world events, each other, and about the community they are building together in the 24/7 learning/living environment that is the opportunity of boarding school life. "The goal is to help students develop both conversational and cultural competence so that they can listen for understanding and gain a better sense of themselves and others, building a stronger, inclusive community," said Saltonstall.

Townspeople will notice new pathways and parking lot improvements, including handicap parking, at the top of the playing fields as well as at Wickenden Chapel. Saltonstall added, "We hope these improvements signal an invitation to townspeople to join us for the many public events, lectures, concerts, and games we host on campus. Please check our website for events and games scheduled at www.taboracademy.org. We welcome you to join in the excitement of our learning community."

MOVIE REVIEW

Hidden Gem

By Rob Gonsalves
www.robsmovievault.com

Chimes at Midnight* (1965). Starring Orson Welles and John Gielgud. Directed by Orson Welles. Running time: 119 minutes.

Orson Welles was just 49 when he started filming Chimes at Midnight in 1964, but he looked 70 — the age he was when he died, in 1985. Partly that's due to make-up, and partly it's because he always seemed older than he was. The movie, one of Welles' finest works and a personal favorite of his, has been difficult to find outside of dodgy bootlegs until it was restored recently, and this week it appears on shiny new Criterion DVD and Blu-ray editions. It's essential viewing for fans of Welles and of Shakespeare, whose great comic-tragic buffoon Falstaff is at the film's center, played by Welles as though he knew he might never again get such a golden opportunity.

As director, Welles contended with a puny budget, which resulted in some infamous issues with dubbing. The words and the images aren't always in sync; sometimes the characters, played by stand-ins, face away from the camera to hide the fact that Welles didn't have a particular actor that day. None of this matters, though, because what comes through is Welles' passion — and, of course, his genius, which presents here as creative workarounds. In the end, Chimes at Midnight is as radiant an example of film-love as any of Welles' other train sets. Somehow, the movie gods smiled down on Welles' efforts, and what could have been an embarrassing boondoggle takes its place as a classic.

Falstaff was close to Welles' heart. At its core, Chimes at Midnight tells the story of an old scoundrel who loves a young man — Prince Hal (Keith Baxter), destined to become King Henry V — as though he were Falstaff's son. The young man must eventually reject Falstaff and the juvenile antics he represents, in order to earn the gravitas that being the king demands. That Falstaff understands this doesn't make the rejection any easier, and there may be no more heartbreaking moment in Welles' career as an actor or as a director than when the former Hal rejects Falstaff and Falstaff's expression speaks of both pride and despair. The entire dark, stylized movie leads up to that moment, which in its original context as a two-part play about the passing of power from Henry IV (John Gielgud) to his son might come off more as a sad footnote about a supporting character.

The movie is famous for its ahead-of-its-time depiction of the Battle of Shrewsbury, filmed in chaotic fragments that nonetheless cohere into a vision of the horrific nonsense of war. Pauline Kael pointed out that the sequence was the only one in the film in which Welles could use editing as an artist rather than as a magician trying to misdirect us from budget problems. It's ferocious and saddening without an ounce of schmaltz, leading up to the duel between Hal and the rebellious Hotspur (Norman Rodway). The movie gives the impression that this is either the first life Hal has taken or the first one that means something to him, and it sets the stage for his maturing and his rejection of his surrogate father. Thus does war destroy anything decent in its path.

Welles said that the movie was less a study of the passing of Falstaff than of the passing of a way of thinking about England. Chimes at Midnight, whose very title resounds with awareness of mortality, is stylistically a bleak and cold vision, with steam often visible on the actors' breath in the frigid air. At one point, John Gielgud's ailing Henry IV exhales steam through his nose disdainfully, like a dragon in repose. In opposition to this is the warmth of Falstaff, who in this telling is only incidentally a clown, waddling into battle in his armor and then hiding behind bushes. Falstaff's "cowardly" response to war seems the only sane reaction to it, and his subsequent attempt to take credit for killing Hotspur reads as a way for him not to gain glory but to forestall the reality that Hal is no longer the Hal he knew. It's a great, sad, exhilarating, stinging accomplishment.

OBITUARIES

Ryan C. Adams 32, of Rochester passed away peacefully, at his home, surrounded by his loving family, on Saturday August 6, 2016.

Born in New Bedford, Ryan grew up in Rochester and attended Rochester Schools. He was the beloved and cherished son of the late Russell Adams and Crystal A. (Westgate) Adams.

Ryan leaves behind his mother Crystal & her companion Bill Bailey. Ryan is survived by his siblings, his brother, Patrick R. Adams and his sister, Faith Adams. Ryan is also survived by his grandmother, Yvonne Adams of Acushnet and his many aunts, uncles and cousins. He was predeceased by his grandparents; Abiel and Christine Westgate and Russell C. Adams.

Ryan was a computer guy and he like to play computer games. He also enjoyed reading and was an avid photographer. Mostly Ryan was a home body and he loved his family and was happiest when with them, especially during a family clam boil. Ryan was a sweet soul and never complained, he always had a beautiful smile on his precious face. He is and will be terribly missed by those who knew and loved him.

Ryan's services will be held at South Coast Chapel Mortuary, 158 Middleboro Rd. (Rt. 18) East Freetown, Ma. 02717. Relatives and friends are respectfully invited to attend on Saturday Sept. 10, 2016 for a Memorial Service at 11:00 am with a Gathering of Family & Friends to follow.

Ryan's family would like to thank Dr. Eric Wong and his team at the Brain Tumor Program, in the Cancer Center at Beth Israel Deaconess in Boston.

A very heartfelt thanks from Ryan and his family to the staff of the Cape Cod VNA / Hospice for the love and compassionate care they provided during this trying time.

In lieu of flowers, donations in Ryan's memory can be made to : Brain Tumor Program, Cancer Center at Beth Israel Deaconess in Boston, please visit their website at bidmc.org

Darleen S. (Allemao) Hall, 66, of Rochester passed away Tuesday, August 23, 2016 in Massachusetts General Hospital surrounded by her loving family.

Born in New Bedford, a daughter of the late John and Lillian (Lima) Allemao she grew up in New Bedford and lived most her life in Wareham before moving to Rochester 12 years ago.

Ms. Hall graduated from the Greater New Bedford Vocational High School in 1968. She worked as a CNA Cape Cod Nursing Home for over 20 years. Darleen was an avid reader who was fun loving and outgoing.

The family would like to thank the staff at Massachusetts General Hospital for their care and support during this difficult time. They will be eternally grateful.

Darleen is survived by a daughter, Bethany Ripley of Rochester; three sons Todd Hicks of Quincy, John Hicks and his wife Cynthia of Wareham and Stephen Hicks and his wife Nia of Assonet; two sisters, Rita Vipon and her husband Robert and Genevieve Florent and her husband Bruce all of New Bedford; grandchildren, Michael, Jr., and Noah Ripley, London, Grayson, Malekai, Stephen, and Jessica Hicks and Jon Coty Tavares; several aunts, uncles, cousins, nieces and nephews.

Her visitation was held on Friday, August 26, 2016 in Rock Funeral Home 1285 Ashley Blvd., New Bedford. Burial was private. In lieu of flowers, donations in her memory to Massachusetts General Hospital, Development Office, 125 Nashua St., Suite 540, Boston, MA 02114 or giving.mass-general.org/donate. www.rock-funeralhome.com for online tribute.

Attorney Paul R. Callan, of Mattapoisett, formerly of Middleborough, died peacefully at his home surrounded by his loving family on August 27, 2016. He was 83.

Paul was the devoted husband of Mary K. (Rudolph) Callan, and the loving father of 4 children who survive him: Paul F. Callan of San Diego, CA; Susan E. Callan and her husband, Stephen Morris, of Falmouth; Claire A. Callan of Falmouth; and Mary A. Callan of Boston. He is also survived by his 8 grandchildren: Jessica, Alyssa, Brianne, Ashley, Michael, Olivia, Conor, and Maeve; 8 great-grandchildren; his sister-in-law and brother-in-law, Ann and Terry Sparrow; and several nieces and nephews. He was the brother of the late Ann (Callan) O'Connell.

Born and raised in Middleborough, Paul was the son of the late Honorable Luke Francis Callan and Bertha (Gibney) Callan. He was graduated from Middleborough High School in 1950, and from Bates College in 1954, and served in the US Army during the Korean Conflict. He married the love of his life, Mary, in 1957. After graduating from Boston University Law School in 1959, Paul practiced law with Judge Callan until his death, and then continued to operate a successful law practice in Middleborough for over 40 years. He was chief counsel for Mayflower Bank, and served on its Board of Directors. He served on the Board of Directors of the Hannah BG Shaw Home in Middleborough for over 50 years, and was involved in many community and civic organizations.

Paul was an avid sports fan, and especially fond of collegiate athletics. He was rarely seen without his cap bearing the insignia of Notre Dame—perhaps his favorite place on earth (other than home)—which he referred to as “God’s Country”. His family and several lucky friends were fortunate enough to “experience” a Notre Dame football game with Paul. He was instrumental in the organization of the Youth Football program in Middleborough.

Our book for September is Isaac's Storm by Erik Larson. We will be discussing this book on Tuesday, September 20 at 10:15 am at the COA.

For their September book, "Just the Facts" Nonfiction Book Discussion Group will be reading The Great Beanie Baby Bubble: Mass Delusion and the Dark Side of Cute by Zac Bissonnette. How many Beanie Babies are you storing at your house? Confess. There was never a craze like those $5 beanbag animals with cute names like Seaweed the Otter. Suburban moms stalked UPS trucks to get the latest models, one sold for $10,000, and some people invested way too much money in them. Just as strange as this mass hysteria was the man behind it. Ty Warner devoted all his energy to creating what he hoped would be the perfect stuffed animal. Did he succeed? Why did people lose their minds over a stuffed animal? We will discuss this book on Thursday, September 22 at 6:30 pm.

The Café Parlez' selection for September is Turn of Mind by Alice LaPlante. Dr. Jennifer White, recently widowed and a newly retired orthopedic surgeon, is entering the beginning stages of dementia when her life-long friend and neighbor Amanda is killed. Dr. White is the prime suspect, and she herself doesn't know if she did it or not. Narrated in her voice, a picture emerges of the intimate and complex alliance between the two women who were at times each other's most formidable adversaries. We will discuss this book on Thursday,

Attention Mattapoisett Water Users

Due to the lack of rain and very dry conditions along with high temperatures the Board of Water and Sewer Commissioners are requesting voluntary out side water use restrictions.

We are asking that all outside watering be done between the hours of 6:00 am to 8:00am and 6:00pm and 8:00 pm.

We are requesting an odd/even outside watering schedule.

If your house or business address is an even number then you would do out side watering on even number days. If your house or business address is an odd number then you would do outside watering on odd number days.

Phase I – A voluntary restriction limits watering to an even/odd basis as follows:

Odd numbered properties can water on even numbered days.

Even numbered properties can water on odd numbered days.

Anyone can water on the 31st.

Even numbered addresses are restricted to allow lawn watering only between the hours of 6:00 AM to 8:00 AM and 6:00 PM to 8:00 PM

Odd numbered addresses are restricted to allow lawn watering only between the hours of 6:00 AM to 8:00 AM and 6:00 PM and 8:00 PM

Marion Art Center Fall Classes

The Marion Art Center is now accepting registrations for its Fall 2016 Adult and Teen Art Classes. Offerings include:

Beginner and Continuing Pastels for Adults (a minimum of 5 students is required): Wednesdays, 10:00 am to noon, September 21 to November 9 (8 weeks). This class is designed for those who would like to work with pastel and do not know how to begin, or have tried working with the medium, but are having trouble achieving desired results. Students will explore various painting surfaces, types of pastels, techniques and basic color theory through small-scale landscape, still-life and portrait painting. Cynthia will guide each individual to develop their own personal style and voice through the versatile medium of pastel. Participants should bring to the first class whatever supplies they have on hand.

The instructor, Cynthia Getchell, was introduced to the pastel medium in 1995 at Bridgewater State College by abstract painter and professor, Mercedes Nunez. Acting on the advice of her student advisor and Professor Nunez, Cynthia left BSC to seek advice and instruction from established artists such as New Bedford portrait painter Deborah Macy, John Borowicz of Dartmouth, and landscape painter Don Demers of Maine. Since the summer of 2000, when she began exhibiting her pastels publicly, Cynthia has participated in over 30 local, regional and national juried competitions collecting numerous awards along the way. Her work was featured for many years at the Donovan Gallery in Tiverton RI, Collyer's Frame Design and Gallery/The Ropewalk Gallery in Mattapoisett and Art Moves in Duxbury, Ma. Since 2000, over 70 of Cynthia's pastel paintings appear in private collections throughout the U.S. and Europe.

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) The typically tidy Ram or Ewe might want to butt out until things are settled on the home front. But get involved and let your Ovine sense of order help restore domestic tranquility.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) The Bovine's flair for fine-tuning complicated fiscal dealings comes in handy when an unexpected financial problem arises. Stay with it until it's resolved to your satisfaction.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Family aspects remain strong. There might be some unresolved difficulties, but continued attempts to smooth things over eventually prove to be successful. A major purchase looms.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) A promise that was made but never kept suddenly re-emerges in your life. You now have to decide if you're still interested in what it offers or if you've moved past it.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Romance comes to unattached Leos and Leonas who have been waiting for Cupid to target them for far too long. Domestic purr-fection is also enhanced for paired Felines.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) You need to take a much-needed break from that demanding project before too much energy-draining tension sets in. And don't be ashamed to ask for help.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Change makes demands that you might find unwell-come at this time. But instead of concentrating on the short run, look toward potential benefits down the road.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You have a gift for reviving projects that seem beyond repair. Use that same ability to restore a relationship that seems to have turned from loving to lifeless.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Expect to be asked to use your combined wisdom and humor to resolve a problem. After all, folks not only value your advice, they also like how you give it.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Most people consider you solid and steady. But you also can be quite capricious (which is a Latin word for "describing the behavior of Goats") when it suits your needs.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) People treat you as you wish to be treated. So if you want a change in your relationship, make it happen. Also expect someone to reveal some long-held secrets.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Stay with the decision you made, despite a sudden torrent of advice to the contrary from well-meaning people. Remember: You know your needs better than anyone.

BORN THIS WEEK: You like things tidy, with no loose ends. You also enjoy research and would make an excellent investigative reporter or scientist.

The instructor, Patricia White, is an illustrator, a painter, and a Gallery Instructor Associate at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston. She is past President of the Marion Art Center and the current President of the Bourne-Wareham Art Association. She studied Illustration and Realist Painting at the Boston Museum School of Fine Arts and has shown her work in numerous exhibitions in Massachusetts and Rhode Island, including the Marion Art Center, The Jonathan Bourne Library, The Wareham Library, Don's Art Shop of Warren, The Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, ArtWorks! of New Bedford, the Annual BWAA Show and Sale, and the Gift Shop of The Cape Cod Museum of Art.

Tuition for the class is $180 for MAC members* and $195 for non-members (supplies not included).

*Current membership is required for discount. The 2016-2017 Membership Year runs August 1, 2016 – July 31, 2017.

Intermediate/Advanced Watercolor Painting for Adults (a minimum of 5 students is required): Fridays, 10:00 am to noon, September 23 to November 11 (8 weeks). This course is a perfect "next step" for those who would like to explore watercolor painting beyond a basic understanding of color and brush strokes. Using the brilliant nature of light (and dark), we'll "push" the medium, adding other water media, brushes, and paper surfaces, and experiment with palette color mixing to capture magic and luminosity. In each class, we will start a new painting together using landscape, still life, the figure, abstract or imaginative thought, or narrative ideas as subjects. Each class will also provide a brief and supportive group "critique." Students will leave with expanded knowledge of technique and traditional and contemporary use of watercolor.

The instructor, Jay Ryan, is a Fairhaven painter and a Gallery Instructor at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston. A former K-12 public school art teacher and administrator, Jay has studied at Massachusetts College of Art, Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts, and Framingham State and Lesley Universities. Teen Painter: Watercolor (a minimum of 5 students is required): Thursday evenings, 7:00 - 9:00 pm, September 22 to November 10 (8 weeks). This new MAC offering for students 13 and older will explore basic drawing skills and provide instruction in introductory and advanced watercolor painting techniques. Watercolor is a vibrant and easy (yes, it really is) way to communicate in paint. During the eight weeks, we'll explore the medium and its uses in abstract, landscape, still life, and figure/portrait painting. Supplies for the first session will be provided so that students can begin to see and understand some of the many varieties and qualities of brushes and pigments they'll encounter in an art store. A list of basic tube colors, brushes and options for paper will be provided during the first class.

REGAIN Addiction Support Group

The REGAIN addiction support group ministry originated from the experiences of individuals feeling led to serve in poor inner-city churches of Southeastern Massachusetts. Finding there was an incredible need for resources, prayer, love and compassion, this 501(c)(3) faith-based ministry was founded. REGAIN does not provide any addiction recovery services for the addict. Its purpose is to form a support network for families and individuals affected by the addiction of a loved one. This is accomplished by helping people REGAIN hope, healing, trust, and power over their lives from the support of others living with the same struggles and difficulties.

The pages that an applicant uses in applying will have a responsive design and will be easily accessed by a phone, tablet, or computer.

The Rochester Cultural Council will accept online applications ONLY (located at www.mass-culture.org.) Paper applications will no longer be accepted.

For schools, please note that you must apply online through this application as well to request a grant for funds to cover the cost of buses for field trips.

According to Council Members, these grants can support a variety of artistic projects and activities in Rochester and surrounding areas – including exhibits, festivals, field trips, short-term artist residencies, or performances in schools, workshops, and lectures.

The Rochester Cultural Council is part of a network of 329 Local Cultural Councils serving all 351 cities and towns in the Commonwealth.

This year, the Rochester Cultural Council will distribute about $4400 in grants. Previously funded projects include: author visits at Rochester Memorial School, the Rochester COA's Community Thank You Event, the New Bedford Symphony Orchestra's school assemblies, and the Rochester Historical Society's 10th Annual Grammar School Reunion Music Program.

Once an application is approved, the grantee should complete the project as outlined in their original application, acknowledge their funding from the LCC and MCC, and then request reimbursement. Grant recipients

Fairway Golf Tournament

The Fairway Golf Tournament sponsored by The Church of The Good Shepherd will take place on Saturday, September 10 at the Little Harbor Country Club in Wareham. Shotgun start is at 8:00 am; the cost – $75 per person or $280 for a foursome – includes golf and lunch, raffles and prizes. Join us as we raise money for The Church of The Good Shepherd's Outreach Ministries that benefit the community. Contact Natecia Alfonso for more information at 774-260-1924 or natecia17@gmail.com.

Senior Luncheon

The Mattapoisett Friends of COA will host a Senior September Picnic on Thursday, September 15 at 12:00 noon at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

We are asking seniors to call the COA office at 508-758-4110 to reserve a place and they will pick up the ticket at the door on the day of the Picnic. A van is available for those who need transportation; just don't forget to request it.

The Oxford Creamery Ox Cart will be on hand to cook the hamburgers, hotdogs & French fries. There will also be punch, watermelon and lots of coffee, all accompanied by Rick LeBlanc's tropical music.

PEARLS BEFORE SWINE
by Stephan Pastis

The cafe will begin with lunch at 11:45 am followed by an afternoon of programming from 12:15 to 2:15 pm. Activities are loosely structured and will range from games, music, singing, dancing, crafts and occasional speakers. This is not a social day or respite program; care providers, friends and family members are strongly encouraged to attend with the person experiencing memory loss. It's a time and place where everyone can interact, find support, establish friendships and share concerns without feeling embarrassed or misunderstood.

The Café is free, donations accepted, and open to the community; you need not be a Marion resident. Contact the Marion COA office with any questions or to register (suggested, not required), hsylvia@marionma.gov or 508-748-3570. Volunteers interested in helping are encouraged to contact the COA for more information.

Sippican Woman's Club

The Sippican Woman's Club will hold its first meeting on Friday, September 9 at 12:30 pm, with a finger-food luncheon, followed by a business meeting at 1:00 pm and program at 1:30 pm. The meeting will be held at The Sippican Woman's Club, Handy's Tavern, 152 Front Street, Marion. Parking is available at the Landing Wharf parking lot. Pre-registration of guests is encouraged as programs often fill. Guests may RSVP to Info@SippicanWomansClub.org. There will be a $5 fee for non-members. Guests who become members may deduct the $5 fee from their dues.

Pam Kubbins will start our program year off with tales and trinkets of world travel. After 28 years of traveling the world as a flight attendant, Pam launched Pam's Pashminas and Exotic Scarves as a second career, combining both her love of travel and keen sense of style and design. Pam continues to travel returning with colorful and/or textured fabrics and new ideas inspired from the distant cultures, people and places she visits. Pam will take us on a visual journey to some of her travel destinations, speak about her own journey and share an opportunity to see and perhaps purchase a scarf/pashmina for your travels in town and beyond.

For club membership information, contact Jeanne Lake at 508-748-0619 or visit our website: www.sippicanwomansclub.org.

A POWERFUL PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT
Holy Spirit, you who solve all problems, who light all roads so I can attain my goals, you who give me the divine gifts to forgive and forget all evil against me, in this short prayer, to thank you for all things and confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you, even in spite of all material illusions. I wish to be with you in eternal glory, thank you for your mercy towards me and mine. The person must say this prayer for three consecutive days. After three days, the favor requested will be granted, even if it may appear difficult. This prayer must be published immediately after the favor is granted without mentioning the favor. Only your initials shall appear at the bottom. M.G.K.

begin at 7:00 pm at the Mattapoisett Free Public Library, 7 Barstow Street, Mattapoisett. The remaining lectures are as follows:

September 6 - United States Entry & The Russian Revolution: In his fourth lecture, Seth Mendell outlines the circumstances that brought the U.S. into the war and the impact of Lenin's ascendance in Russia.

September 13 - Ploughboys into Doughboys – Collapse of Central Powers: This final entry of Seth Mendell's WWI series focuses on the American side of the conflict and the eventual surrender of Germany and the Central Powers.

Sippican Choral Society

The Sippican Choral Society is looking for quite a few new members to help us ring in the Christmas 2016 season. Rehearsals are starting soon, and we'd love to see you there.

We are a group of local singers who love to lend our voices to this large and inviting group. The rehearsals are a lot of fun and are certainly an educational experience, as our new director, Dr. Tianxu Zhou, leads us through the many ins and outs and nuances of the music he selects for our group. He is always very respectful of all of our members, and you will be very comfortable during the process and amazed at how he coaxes the best out of everyone. The end result is a completely well-rehearsed and balanced chorus accompanied flawlessly by not only our incredible rehearsal accompanist, Michelle Gordon, but also by the hand-picked orchestra members who fill out our sound, delighting every audience member.

The Sippican Choral Society is a volunteer organization and does not require auditioning; however, there is a select Chamber Chorus that requires an audition should you choose to participate.

Rehearsals start on Monday, September 12 from 7:30 to 9:30 pm at the Mattapoisett Congregational Church Auditorium. Our Christmas 2016 concert will be presented on December 2 at St. Lawrence Church, New Bedford, and December 4 at Wickenden Chapel, Marion.

If you have any questions, please call Nancy Sparklin at 508-763-2327 and leave a message, or you can check out our website at www.sippicanchoralsociety.org.

I Found the Aardvark!

Each week, hidden somewhere in the pages of The Wanderer is a tiny drawing of an aardvark. The little guy you are looking for looks exactly like the one pictured above (but don't put down this page as your answer, there's another one hidden somewhere in this issue).

Once you find the aardvark you can submit your answer online and if you are right you will get Aardvark Points! You can then use these points to get cool Aardvark Prizes!

To enter visit: www.wanderer.com and Click on I Found the Aardvark

In the August 25, 2016 issue the Aardvark was on page 47!
